Philadelphia, April 21.—The exit of Turkey from Europe and the early collapse of German militarism were predicted by speakers at today's sessions of the annual meeting of the American Academy of Political and Social Science. The speakers included statesmen, scholars and journalists.

The death knell of German militarism was sounded when President Wilson and the American congress resolved to enter the war, according to Toyokichi Iyenaga of New York, manager director of the "East and West News Bureau."

"It was sheer madness," he said, "for Germany to arouse the sleeping giant of this hemisphere. There is no doubt now as to which side of the belligerents will be the final victor. The only question that arises, however, is how long is the time before Germany collapses."

"I make bold to say that it would be to the great advantage of Germany to sue for peace today and immediately stop this awful carnage and destruction before she has inflamed the American public by an hostile encounter. If she could now lay her cards upon the table and ask for lenient terms of settlement her enemies probably would not be loathe to grant them. In this respect the influence of America would doubtless be strongly exerted in Germany's favor. Were Germany so to act, I could undertake for the first time why she dragged the United States into this war."

The problems of a durable peace between America and Japan, Mr. Iyenaga said, will not have received their definite and final solution until Japanese recognition in this country receive full recognition of their equality with people of other nationalities.

Charles Pergler of Cresco, Iowa, said the exit of Turkey from Europe is now only a question of a short time. "Russia," he said, "henceforth will be a democratically governed country. Thus, remains unsolved only one major international problem involving the rights of small nations."

Hears Arguments of Opponents Today.

(Associated Press Telegram)
Washington, April 21.—Debate on the administration army bill providing for selective conscription, began in the senate today, with friends and opponents lining up for the impending fight over the draft and volunteer plans. Administration leaders were determined to press the bill for final disposition and expressed confidence that it would pass with a safe majority.

The military committee, in voting to report the bill to the senate, stood 10 to 7 in favor of the selective draft system.

The first real contest in the senate was expected to come over efforts to amend the bill by adding provisions authorizing a call for volunteers.

Before the debate began the military committee heard Dr. Charles W. Eliot, president emeritus of Harvard, representing the pacifists. He discussed the Swiss system of universal military training.

In the house the military committee met to approve the majority substitute bill, which provides that the volunteer system shall be given a trial before draft is resorted to. It is planned to take up the measure in the house on Monday.

Pacifists, conscientious objectors and representatives of unorganized workers also appeared today before the same committee. James Eads Howe, of St. Louis, known as the "millionaire hobo," speaking for unorganized workers, said he believed if guns were put in their hands he feared they would use them against the government.

Joseph Cannon, a labor organizer, predicted that the selective draft, and higher prices of foodstuffs would lead to riots and that "blood will flow in the streets."

Mrs. W. I. Thomas of Chicago, executive secretary of the Woman's International Peace Party, characterized the war as an alliance between Lombard and Wall streets.

Grant Hamilton, of the American Federation of Labor, said that labor stands solidly against conscription. The bill, including the volunteer amendment, finally was ordered favorably reported to the house today by the military committee by a vote of 12 to 8.

Consideration in the house will begin Monday with prospects of a vote probably Wednesday night or Thursday.

ECONOMY IN DRESS.

FAITHFUL SERVICE TO GOD IS APPEAL
OF DR. BROMLEY; MANY HIT THE TRAIL

Before a crowd last night which filled the tabernacle to overflowing, Evangelist Bromley urged the necessity of a more faithful service to God. It was "Sunday school night" and the delegations from every Sunday school in Newark filled the huge structure to bursting. Songs were sung, yells given, and a general spirit of enthusiasm prevailed. After a period devoted to singing the evangelist took charge of the platform.

That every man is the servant of some superior power was stated by the evangelist. His text, Joshua 24-15, gave the audience an inkling of the body of his address. "As for me and my house, we will serve the Lord."

"Furthermore," said the evangelist, "if a man is not under the power of God he is under some other influence. The higher the office the greater number of people served. Look at Wilson and Cox as examples. The influence of Saul of Tarsus and others to serve God will never be forgotten. He that will be great must be servant of all. Christ washed the Apostles' feet."

That religion is essential to a better home-life was explained by the speaker.

He said that religion was necessary in business, politics, society and state legislation. "Home-life is necessary," he cried, "for this nation rests upon proper home-life. How many divorce cases would be stopped by the proper attitude at home. There's a great difference between a house and a home. All the dollars in creation won't build a happy home. A mud hovel or a log cabin can be home, but a $200,000 mansion may be a minister's hell."

"If there's anything I dislike to see, it's a company's affection between a man and woman who hardly speak at home." The evangelist further stated that John Jacob Astor's happiest days were when he was making $5 per week.

After concluding this statement, Dr. Bromley urged that religion enter into the home for the sake of the growing children. "The children of the rich are to be pitied," he declared, "many of them go to the bad right in the home."

Frivolous extravagances were raked over the coals by the evangelist. He scored the monkey-dinners and pet pooches owned by men and women of the rich class. "The (Continued on Page 10, Col. 3.)

ARGENTINE SENDS
THREAT TO BERLIN;
BREAK IS PROBABLE

(Associated Press Telegram)
Buenos Aires, April 21.—The government has sent to Germany an energetic note demanding complete satisfaction for the sinking of the Argentine ship Monte Protegido. The Argentine minister is instructed to immediately break off relations if Germany attempts to evade responsibility for the loss of the vessel.

The instructions sent to the minister are that Argentina will permit of no evasion or delay on the part of Germany. He is told to instruct the Berlin government that if prompt satisfaction is not granted, Argentina will follow the course of the United States and Brazil and arm its ships against submarines.

It was announced officially April 21 that the Monte Protegido had been sunk by a submarine off the European coast. The submarine fired on the ship, wounding a number of the crew. The news caused great excitement in Argentina and demonstrations against Argentina were organized.

(Associated Press Telegram)
New York, April 21.—Interest in the great French offensive on the Aisne gives way to the startling news from the interior of Germany. Veiled though the situation is in the mists of a rigid censorship and obscured by the shackled condition of the German press, sufficient has leaked through to indicate that the German empire is facing a great economic and political crisis. The latest information received is—that 10,000 striking munition workers have engaged in a bloody riot in the great Prussian fortress town of Magdeburg and were only prevented from burning the city hall after a sharp clash with the military. This story comes from the Dutch frontier with sufficient detail to make its claims to authenticity impressive. On its heels arrives the account of demands made by the leaders of the Berlin strike, demands of such a revolutionary character that compliance with them would mean a prompt ending to the militarist regime in the German empire.

Similar demands have not been voiced publicly in Germany since the imprisonment of Dr. Karl Liebknecht on a charge of treason. It is significant that they include a requisition for the release of all political prisoners which would include, of course, the noted Socialist leader.

The exact status of the strike movement in Germany is unknown, but it is certain that a very considerable portion of the munition workers have been affected.

There are reports of a new strike at Essen and Magdeburg is the site of an important branch of the great Krupp establishment.

An indication of the seriousness of the situation is afforded by the fact that Field Marshal von Hindenburg has considered it necessary to make a personal appeal to the workers in which he denounces strikes as inexcusable crimes against the fighting forces.

In the meantime, General Nivelle maintains his unrelenting pressure against the enemy at the most vital point of his defense—the sharp angle at which the German line, running south from Tens Turns eastward toward Rheims. This angle has already been crushed in to an appreciable extent and is in imminent danger of being entirely shattered.

The heavy toll of prisoners taken by the French continues steadily, giving strong support to the claims made in London and Paris of the deterioration of the German morale.

Three great obstacles stand in the path of General Nivelle. The first is the formidable and sinister Briant plateau, the height from which the German guns have poured their shells on the Rheims cathedral. The French are at the foot of this plateau and by a double flanking movement are endeavoring to cut it off on the main German line.

The second great barrier is the almost similarly situated fort de Malmou, which stands between General Nivelle's troops and Laon on the road from Laffaux. The third obstacle is the upper Coucy forest, a densely wooded plateau, which held up the French in their initial drive from Soissons.

While the French guns thunder against these three German strongholds there is comparative inactivity on the British front. That General Haig is preparing for another tremendous blow is taken for granted and London believes that this blow will not be long withheld now.

South of the main area of the Arras battle front the British last night delivered a stroke in the direction of Cambrai. Pushing ahead from Gonzeaucourt, they captured the village of Gonnelleu, more than a mile nearer the German line between Cambrai and St. Quentin. The place was taken after sharp fighting, General Haig reports.

Last night's progress by the French was chiefly in their movement against the Briant plateau. Their gained ground here is a genuine fighting. Similar progress was also scored south of Juvincourt in the Berry-An-Bacre region, north-west of Rheims.

The fighting has spread further east in the Champagne, the French report indicates. Important reconnoitering activities are reported.

PRISONERS CAPTURED.

(Associated Press Telegram)
London, April 21.—British troops last night captured the village of Gonnelleu on the front between St. Quentin and Cambrai. It was officially announced today. An enemy party attempted to enter our trenches in the neighborhood of Fauquissart, but was repulsed.

Artillery fire continued on both sides at a number of places during the night.

STAND BY PRESIDENT SAY RESOLUTIONS OF DEMOCRATIC COMMITTEE

Administration's Plan of Raising Army for Defense of United States is Endorsed

At a meeting of the Democratic central committee this afternoon the following resolutions were unanimously adopted and ordered sent to President Wilson. Senators Pomerene and Harding, Representative Ashbrook and Governor Cox.

Be it resolved by the Licking County Democratic Central committee in session at Newark, O., April 21, 1917, that we express our confidence in the masterful leadership of Woodrow Wilson, our sincere admiration of the quality of mind and heart that is guiding him in the discharge of his duty at Washington, and that we pledge our hearty, wholehearted support to the President.

Be it resolved further, that in pursuance of the President's positively expressed preference for selective conscription in the organization of a great army which is now needed in defense of our country that we request the senators from Ohio, Hon. Atlee Pomerene and Hon. Warren G. Harding, and our representative, Hon. Wm. A. Ashbrook, to follow the wishes of the President in this matter. Recognizing the fact that voluntary service has failed in the past and would again fail appreciating the fact that the voluntary system is neither scientific nor just in its distribution of the burden and relying upon the unanimous judgment of President Wilson and the world's military experts we urge that congress act without delay in giving the President quickly an army of the size and strength needed to meet the emergency.

Be it resolved further, that we heartily commend the action of Gov. James M. Cox in arousing widespread interest in the conservation and cultivation of our agricultural resources and that we call upon every man, woman and child in Licking county to do his or her part, not only in expressing loyalty to the flag, but in doing whatever can be done to assist in food production and distribution, in aiding in every way the government of the United States in bringing victory to American arms.

Just because a fellow can't get into the aviation corps he needn't go up in the air about it.

ANOTHER MUDDLE IN POLICE ORDINANCE; FORCE IS REDUCED

Police ordinances are a bad thing to tittle with, that has been the experience of several Ohio cities and Newark in particular. One introduced recently was declared invalid after it had been fought through all the courts to the supreme court of the state and the city lost out, costing the taxpayers a neat little sum of money and restoring several city officers to the payroll in the safety department of the city after they had been out for nearly a year and giving them full pay—one officer getting a verdict for nearly a thousand dollars, and who did not do a single day's labor.

A second ordinance became effective yesterday, and it has since been discovered that it reduces the police force of the city by just three members. It is said that was not the intention of those who tattered it, but nevertheless such is the case and as a consequence, when the men are dropped from the rolls the city may find itself again a defendant in the courts. It is strange to the uninitiated that the sponsors of the ordinance did not ascertain just what the passage of the measure would result in.

Under the new ordinance two police patrol chauffeurs are created and a civil service examination recently held found one man available for the position—James Donnelly. The measure grants compensation of $75 per month, and as Donnelly, one of the oldest men of the force, now draws $85 per month, he hardly feels like accepting the position at that rate of reduction. Another examination will have to be held in order to secure eligibles for the place as both a day and night chauffeur are needed.

Examinations were also held for driver of fire motor trucks, and E. E. Hawkins, Frank Frost and Otto Myers were successful. P. E. Van degrift was out of the city when the examination was held, and he will take a later examination. He is one of the drivers at the Central station. Under the new ordinance, civil service examinations were held for every branch of the city service. This is also in accordance with the Ohio code. G. A. Baird was successful in an examination for stationery engineer, and Bernie D. Sigler and Charles Dalton for stationery firemen. Patrolman James Donnelly and Harry Murray were successful as chauffeurs in the police department, but the latter is only 22 years of age and is not eligible as the age limit is 25.

It is necessary for all janitors of city buildings, schools, or any branch of the city service, to take the examination. One of these passed. All laborers of every department must also take the examination, and six passed. The successful ones are now eligible for appointment and their names will be certified as needed.

SPECIAL VENIRE IS CALLED FOR DICKEY'S TRIAL

County Prosecutor Charles Flory today filed a periphrase with Clerk of Court Bert O. Horton, directing him to draw a special jury for the trial of the homicide case of the State of Ohio vs. Karl Dickey. The trial has been assigned for Monday, May 14.

It was stated today that relatives of Cecil Burrell, the young man who was killed, have employed ex-Prosecutor J. W. Horner to assist Prosecutor Flory. The defendant will also be represented by able counsel.

Clerk Horton stated today that subpoenas will be issued for 35 veniremen Monday, from which it is hoped to be able to secure a jury. It is not known what the defense of the defendant will be but in all probability they will claim accidental homicide.

On the afternoon of Thursday, November 15, 1916, Cecil Burrell, aged 22 years, and Karl Dickey, aged 19 years, returned from a rabbit hunt at Wilkins Corners. The young men worked in the same shop at the Wehrle foundry and had been frequently together. Coming in from the country they went to the Dickey home in Hoover street and about 4 o'clock Chief James Sheridan was called to the home, being informed that "Buck" Burrell had been shot and killed by his companion.

No one witnessed the shooting but Dickey's mother, and the young man was arrested and later indicted for murder. He has been confined in the county jail since that time.

Submarine Torpedoes.

Launching a torpedo from a submarine is simple. The torpedo fits closely in a tube or cylinder, with an opening at the rear made airtight when closed. At the desired moment there is a discharge of cordite and the torpedo is on its way.

When the torpedo is projected from a ship or boat into the water a lever is thrown back, admitting air into the engine, causing the propellers to revolve and drive the torpedo ahead. The torpedo travels under water at a high rate of speed. It carries a large charge of explosive which is ignited on the torpedo striking any hard substance, such as the hull of a ship.

The distance the tube is submerged depends on the target, but the nearer the surface the more effective.

Hopkins, superintendent Public Welfare bureau.

Resolutions were adopted in which the reason for the organization and its objects, were outlined.

It is the purpose of the council to assist the nation, state and city to bring about the highest efficiency during the war; to become a clearing house for all work done in this community; to receive requests from the state council for its requirements and at the same time conserve the local interests; to aid in increasing and conserving food supplies and maintain reasonable prices; to list all available men and women for the different needs of the nation; to list sources of supplies; to raise and manufacturers; to raise subscriptions and disburse money to further its objects; to appoint any sub-committee necessary to carry out the work; to interest all authorized bodies in the problems which arise.

Three fundamental questions were considered. They are:

1.—To ascertain from farmers how many acres of increase in crops will be possible if help can be provided.

2.—What labor is necessary to carry out this work.

3.—How to secure labor to keep the industries of the county running full capacity.

The solution of the first two questions can be worked out by farmers and laborers will sign the application blanks from school and farm work and will be given full credit for school work. Such boys will report to this office as early as possible.

A special committee is at work on the problem of laborers for the industrial plants. A beginning has been made in establishing a labor exchange in connection with the state free labor exchange, and every effort will be made to supply the labor needed.

A "daylight" ordinance will be presented to the city council to join in the movement to adopt eastern time for all Ohio, and so increase daylight production.

Three application blanks will be available to aid in tabulating the information which will be secured by the council. One large blank asks the farmer what help he will need, wages paid, and other information pertaining to labor, besides requesting statistics on acreage, increase over last year and help necessary to make such increase. Another application blank provides space for a condensed report as given above. The third blank is to be filled out by the man or woman wanted to place or willing to help.

Another meeting of the council will be held Tuesday afternoon at 4 o'clock at the Chamber of Commerce rooms.

GARDENING AND OUR NATIONAL FOOD PROBLEM

HOW ONE SCHOOL APPROXIMATES THE QUESTION
By A. E. Hamilton

European school children have learned that war is service, war is work. They have learned that this work and service is not alone for the men behind the guns, but for women and girls in the shops, for men and boys on the farm and even for children in the home garden patch.

America faces a food problem. It may never become a tragedy, as it has in some sections of Europe, but its gravity is bound to increase steadily from now until some time after the great war ends.

A mobilization of our available agricultural resources will at best mitigate and render actual danger less acute. Hunger always stalks in the wake of war, and while America may not starve, a large share of America will have to pull in its belt. How can we help to lessen want and distress?

Work for School Children. There are some twenty million school children in the United States. A majority of these children are of gardening age. All of them would be wholesomely benefited by work at organized gardening.

An experiment, conducted in the spring of 1914 and serving as the basis for a similar experiment this spring, was directed by the teacher of mathematics and his wife at the Interlaken Preparatory School for Boys, near La Porte, Ind.

The pupils are the sons of professional and business men who in their homes have never been accustomed to work.

Work. The teacher thought it practicable to correlate his grade work in arithmetic with the practical outdoor farm work which the boys were called on to perform as a regular part of their school duties.

Arithmetic and Gardening. "Boys," he said, "how would you like to assemble this spring and learn arithmetic by measuring boards for the hotbeds, counting and weighing seeds, calculating the number of seeds you need for a certain sized plot, and working out all the problems that naturally come up in the making of a first-class garden?" These 52 boys, ranging from nine to fourteen years of age, welcomed the proposal with acclamation.

Making hotbeds meant a learning of board measure, for every step in their making was to be gone through very thoroughly by each boy.

The co-operation of the wood-shop, mechanical drawing department and farm was next enlisted, and plans were drawn up in class time for final operations.

The boys dug the pits, sorted and sifted the fertilizers, built the bases for the frames, made new frames, repaired old ones, cut glass, put in panes and painted their finished work. Then they set seed for early garden produce and returned to their major work on the gardens.

The Gardens. A field was selected back of a woodland lot, orders were obtained from the farm for its plowing with the big tractor on which some of the older boys might learn engineering lessons, and the trigonometry class was requested to survey the field in accordance with plans furnished by the grade boys. The seniors had their smile at this businesslike proposal from "the kids," but they were game for fun and did their part thoroughly and well.

Here is the general plan of the gardens:

1. Standard size of gardens shall be 20 by 30 feet.

2. Gardens shall be grouped so each owner can have easy access to his plot without trespassing.

3. Gardens to be carefully laid out and numbered, then assigned by lot.

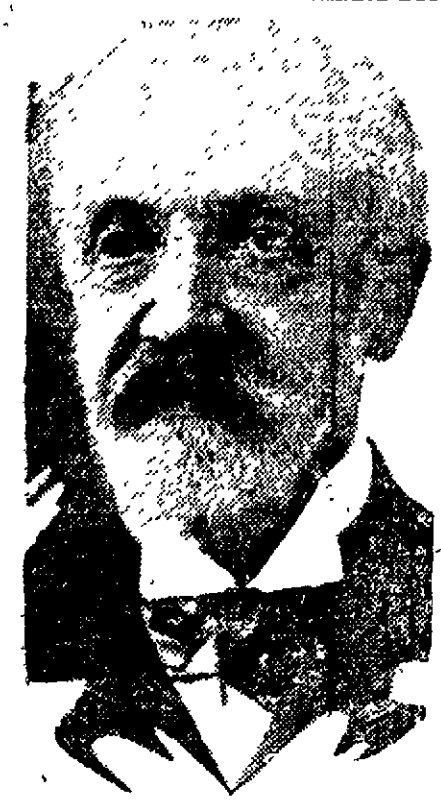

4. Each boy to have a separate garden for which he alone is responsible. There shall be no partners.

5. Persons, however, may co-operate with each other.

6. After allotment is made, persons may exchange plots in order that congenial co-operators may be near each other, provided the manager approves.

7. Each person furnishes, through

Baron Rosen.

Baron Romanovich Rosen, who was ambassador to the United States from Russia from 1905 to 1911, is returning to this country. It is believed that he will resume his old post as representative of the Russian government. M. Bakmeteff, who succeeded Baron Rosen in 1911, tendered his resignation shortly after the revolutionists had overthrown the Romanoff dynasty.

Acquisition to manager, his own hoe and rake and tools.

8. All other tools needed will be furnished by the school.

9. What, how, when to plant and how to cultivate shall be determined by each boy on the advice of the manager and experienced gardeners designated by the manager.

10. The manager shall select certain work periods, probably equivalent to not more than one three-hour period a week, for garden purposes.

11. The yield from the gardens becomes the boy's own property.

12. The school will buy, at market prices, whatever vegetables may be needed, provided these vegetables be delivered in standard lots.

Headwork With Seeds.

Next came hard headwork with the seeds. The boys were impressed with the fact that almost anyone could make a garden just by digging up the ground and sowing at random, but that successful gardening depended on the following of certain standard practices.

The boys had plotted their gardens, decided what they wanted to plant and it only remained to know how seeds should be distributed.

So the boys were set to calculating how many seeds of a certain kind should be distributed in their garden rows, and to facilitate distribution of seeds they were given the problem of determining how many seeds there were to a gram in weight. All calculations were made in the metric system, as this was one of the lessons in arithmetic that they were supposed to learn in their grades.

Referring again to the garden plans, each map was drawn to scale, first in sketch, then in revised editions until approved. Each boy plotted and laid out his ground in strict accord with his map and was allowed to begin planting only after he had brought his plot up to the standard required.

Then he set his seal of ownership upon it with a stake, made by himself in the wood-shop of uniform pattern with that of his neighbor, painted and lettered with the boy's name by the school artist.

When the seeds had been planted and the season of watchful waiting began, the botany teacher told the boys something of the mystery of plant-life, from seed, to bud and fruit. Expeditions to the gardens were frequent as a part of classwork and there was keen competition as to who should first note the breaking of ground by the young green sprouts.

There was a fine feeling of friendliness about all this. The boys had worked hard, individually and together. The gardens were a miniature democracy.

Jingle of Real Coin.

Pulling up onions, picking peas, feeling the ripening ears of the corn to test them if ready for market—and then the cherry jingle of real, hard coin deep down in their very own pockets—this was the happy harvest.

For the school bought what the boys had to sell at regular market prices—even to the candytuft and carnations that the flower-minded lads had grown in sections of their land devoted to the cultivation of beauty.

BOY SCOUTS GARDENING.

Washington, April 21.—Two thousand khaki clad boy scouts carrying axes, hoes and spades, paraded past the White House today on their way to the 200-acre plot near the Potomac river located by the government to be cultivated by the boys, as a big vegetable garden. Each week and during the season the boys will camp out near the gardens and cultivate their crops.

Destroying an Idol.

"Charley, dear," said young Mrs. Torke, "you can say anything you like nowadays about George Washington, can't you?"

"Yes. The lid seems to be off."

"Well, I never liked to mention it before, but I have my doubts about his being incapable of an effort to deceive. His pictures look to me as if the old gentleman wore a wig."—Washington Star.

ONLY 1200 SETS left out of 75,000 printed of the new Encyclopaedia Britannica in the superb large-size Cambridge University Issue printed on genuine India paper.

These are the very last in the world--and when they are gone, as they will be in a week or so, not another set can be offered at any price. Because no more India paper can be had for printing the Britannica in either this splendid form or in the popular small "Handy Volume" form.

THE Cambridge University Issue of the new Britannica is a magnificent set of books—printed in large type on large, wide-margined pages of the famous thin-but-tough India paper, and attractively bound, making each of the 29 volumes a fine specimen of the book-maker's art.

The purchasers of this large, high-priced Cambridge Issue include nearly all the prominent men and women of America. If the price of the Britannica is a secondary consideration with you, you should certainly buy one of these last sets of the Cambridge Issue printed on genuine India paper and bound in full or three-quarter morocco, or soft gray suede. (You can also buy it in green cloth.)

Don't buy a set without seeing both the Cambridge and the popular "Handy Volume" Issues, and making your own comparisons as to the differences in bindings and prices. They are identical in contents—page for page, illustration for illustration.

You will have to act quickly if you want a set of either.

The popular "Handy Volume" Issue printed on genuine India paper will all be sold within a few weeks—the last day will soon be announced when any order can be accepted with the possibility of filling it.

But the last of the few remaining sets of the Cambridge Issue will be sold even earlier. A week or so will see the very last set sold. And this means the last in the world—

BECAUSE the Britannica is completely "sold out" in Great Britain, Australia and every other country where it has been offered, and

BECAUSE no more genuine India paper can be obtained for printing any more sets.

This advertisement is being printed in the leading newspapers of the large cities; it will be read by thousands of men and women who, like you, are just now deciding to own the Britannica, convinced that it will be useful to them in their business and work.

If you prefer the beautiful large-size Cambridge Issue, you must order now to secure a set. There is no time for dilly-dallying—send your order in TODAY.

It is too late for you to send for literature describing the Britannica; you wouldn't have time to read it and make up your mind that you wanted the Britannica and send in your order before the last set is sold. You can see a complete set of the Britannica and samples of the different bindings, both the large size Cambridge Issue and the popular "Handy Volume" Issue, at

AIR BATTLE NEAR VENICE

(Associated Press Telegram) Rome, April 21, via Tark.—A sea and air battle near Venice on April 17, is reported in an official announcement by the war office. The statement says:

"A number of airplanes aided by torpedo boats, approached Venice on April 17, in order to effect a reconnaissance in force. A rapid counter attack by Italian and French airplanes and the fire of our batteries prevented the enemy machines from firing over the city. In a series of aerial duels one enemy plane was shot down. Two Italian airplanes have failed to return to their bases."

Use Newbro's Herpicide IN TIME AND YOU WILL NEVER NEED FALSE HAIR

Wearing false hair is a harmless deceit of which many ladies are guilty. These women are all objects for sympathy rather than criticism. Early neglect in the care of the scalp has caused the loss of so much hair that their personal appearance is sadly marred. To correct this defect they resort to artificial hair hoping by so doing to hide the results of their earlier inattention to the details of their toilet. These unfortunate are deceiving no one but themselves as no artificial hair can lastier how costly, ever has the snap and luster made to look as natural and attractive as natural hair.

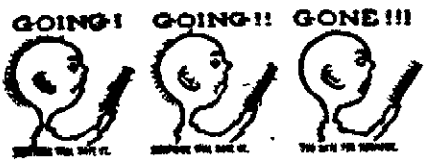

Most ladies would resent any imputation of personal carelessness and neglect. And yet very many permit their natural hair to become so dull, brittle and lusterless that it looks no better than that bought at the store.

All this is as unfortunate as it is unnecessary. Hair that is unsightly or thin may usually be attributed to the destroying effects of Dandruff. This destructive formation shortly robs the hair of life, with the result that it finally loosens and drops out. There is a preparation, sold and guaranteed by all dealers, the intelligent use of which will kill the dandruff germ. It cleanses the scalp of all accumulations and makes the hair shine with the luster of life and beauty. That remedy is Newbro's Herpicide, the Original Germ Remedy for Dandruff. In no way can you add more to your personal charm and attractiveness than by the use of this remarkable and well known scalp preservative.

On account of its astonishing merit and its delightful and ex-ligible odor, Herpicide finds users everywhere among all classes. It may be purchased in 50 cent and $1.00 sizes at all drug stores and toilet goods counters. Applications may be obtained at the better barber shops and hair dressing parlors.

Upon receipt of 10 cents in postage or silver to cover cost of packing and mailing, The Herpicide Co., Dept. S, Detroit, Mich. will send to any address a nice sample bottle of Herpicide and an interesting booklet on the care of the hair.

GOING! GOING!! GONE!!! Artificial hair no matter how costly, ever has the snap and luster made to look as natural and attractive as natural hair.

MARRIED AND SINGLE MEN.

Many state legislatures have been petitioned to pass special taxes on bachelors. It has been argued that they carry less than their share of the community burden, therefore should pay a higher tax. In most cases though these propositions have been laughed out.
But the federal government is getting the bachelors' numbers now. The income tax was the first sign of it, the exemption being $1000 less for single men. Now comes the selective draft proposition, in which the prior liability of single men for army service is clearly established. It was pointed out by the war department last Thursday however that marriages contracted since the declaration of war will not relieve the bridegroom from duty.
The high standards of living tend to postpone marriage nowadays. Many young people prefer to get a business start before assuming the burden of a family. It seems a prudent thing to do, from a purely money point of view. In many individual cases possessment of marriage seems wise under the circumstances. As a whole it is not a healthful social condition, it seems inevitable that the government policies in future should grant some favors to those who assume the responsibilities of wedlock.

The Columbus bomb plot story which was conspicuously carried in some newspapers yesterday deserves a place by the side of the tale about the capture of "eighteen German submarines" in American waters.
The Associated Press dispatches yesterday told of the discovery of a can of bean soup and an empty cartridge shell at the state capitol. By a twist of imagination this was turned into the "makings" of a "bomb plot" and as such was written in detail and given prominent space in some newspapers.

There are a good many people who would generously offer to run gardens if seed and garden tools were furnished, the land ploughed and spaded, the weeds kept out and the crop harvested for them.

Another good way to raise war money would be to place a special exercise on all kickers who object to the new levies. There would be some returns on this tax.

The newspaper publishers would patriotically offer to do jury service without pay if they could pass on the cases of the indicted news print manufacturers.

People can't raise farm animals because grain costs so high and they can't raise any more grain because farm animals cost so much.

Some of our patriots are perfectly willing to wave flags and urge young men to enlist, but when it comes to digging in the dirt raising potatoes, that is another proposition.

It is to be hoped that the food speculators will generously decide that they can rub along on a million a year when they might easily make two millions.

KNOWLEDGE AND SUCCESS.

A taking style of advertising of which one sees a good deal in the magazines just now, urges the idea that if a man wants to succeed in life, he must know more. The reader is told that if he will buy this or that encyclopaedia, dictionary, or other publication, it will so broaden his general intelligence that he will win a greater business success.

It is a striking commentary on our materialistic ideals, that people who have books of wisdom to sell feel that they must show that it will help people make more money. There was a time when knowledge was considered an end in itself, which paid as you went along regardless whether you got any richer or not.

However, there is in the business world a very distinct value placed on general information. Many a man who has good ability feels helpless and hopeless when he gets among men of good education. But it does not necessarily follow that you can give an impression of intelligence and culture merely by buying this or that reference book and consulting it frequently. The man who is constantly firing general information at his social acquaintances is a dull bore.

A thorough familiarity with what is going on in the world is quite as a business asset. If a man will faithfully read a few good newspapers and magazines, he will see the difference in his command of his own resources.
Let him read thoughtful editorials, congressional and legislative debates, war and business news, and he will store his mind with interesting things.

Then when people drop chance remarks about public matters, he will be able to make some real contribution to the conversation. And a man who can talk intelligently on any general topic never lacks friends.
People like to make the acquaintance of a person like that, and if he comes to them on business, they receive him with pleasure. It pays in all kinds of ways.

MIDDLE AGE.

(Scribner's Magazine.)
If one stops to think of it, just when does the gallantry of youth change into the heaviness of middle age? Why do all the engaging, entrancing boys and girls become dull, uninspired men and women? Why do we submit to the change? We bring joy with us when we come into the world and we expect to find joy waiting for us again when we go back to heaven, but in the meantime we walk with downcast eyes and hanging arms, crushed by the heaviness of mortal existence. When, if we stopped to think, we would know that the spiritual things make life; that without love and joy and unselfishness and courage we could not long endure the daily mortal round of dressing and eating and sleeping. If there is any such thing as eternal life, this present life is part of it, and why not go lightly through the hours—even when we stop being 20—instead of wearily plodding through them? We may, if we refuse to allow the laws and demands of mortal existence to subvert themselves on the laws of eternal life and crush out all spiritual eagerness.

It is a matter, not of the events of life, but of our acceptance of life.
Could the terrible events of the French revolution crush the spirit of the French noblesse? There were no middle-aged among them in those prison days when they danced and sang with gay insouciance while each waited for his turn at the guillotine.
They lost their heads but they never dropped them, for they knew the secret of spiritual youth.

The motto of today maintain that same gallantry of youth.
Perhaps not every one of them feels the pulse of spiritual life, but they refuse middle age and are willing to pay the price of their refusal.
To hold their prestige they must be slim and charming and slim they are, even though in extreme cases they gain their slenderness by rolling on the floor and the charm from the hands of their maids, and their gay-ety lies no deeper than the tips of their tongues. Still, in their courage and confidence they never strike their colors to middle age. However, they feel inwardly, outwardly they never flaunt a drooping mouth or a sagging figure.

If Col. Roosevelt goes to France, it won't probably be possible to find him at the rear in the telephone station telling the boys what to do.
He'll be up in front.

THE D. A. R.

The Daughters of the American Revolution, who have been holding their annual Continental Congress at Washington, are a little outside of the ordinary run of women's societies.
The early days of the women's club movement seemed to run more into the line of study and investigation.
The most recent poets, philosophers, and economists were analyzed and debated.
Of late years the women's club movement has followed more into lines of social effort. It has been realized that mere information counts but little, that what is needed is effort for social and moral betterment.
In many a town the Woman's Club is now the most active civic force.
During these years, the D. A. R.'s have been going their own way in an individual manner. At first they secured mostly engaged in contemplating the glory of their historic ancestors.
Incidentally basking in whatever luster might be reflected therefrom.
Of late years they have undertaken a campaign for instruction of alien residents in citizenship and American life. Their classes and lectures have been one of the most important forces to help these bewildered newcomers find themselves in a strange land.

The gatherings of the D. A. R. organization have been interesting and valuable. They have had no contests for election of their officers, and much acrimony has developed, giving the reporters much picturesque copy.
The fighting blood of their sires seemed to come down to these twentieth century women, giving them ability in controversy, and a disposition to stand up and battle for their personal rights.
An organization like this will be useful in these days of national conflict. These women will not go home asking the American people to let any foreign king put his foot on their necks. They will find the field of patriotic endeavor wide open, with a hundred lines in which the work of women needs to be simplified and

NUX IRON PEPSIN AND SARSAPARILLA—Effective Combination.

As comprised in Hood's Sarsaparilla and Pepsin Pills, these valuable remedies possess unequalled health-value, for the alleviation and cure of a long train of ailments common among our people in this 20th century.

In these days of rushing and pushing, beyond the endurance of even the most robust, nearly every man and woman needs and must have the aid of the health-giving powers of this combination of medicines to support and sustain normal health tone. If it is not supplied, the depletion of the blood and the broken-down nerves will soon give way to permanent invalidism and ruined

The very best remedies for blood-

UTICA MAN TELLS N. CAROLINA FARMERS
HOW TO INCREASE CROP PRODUCTION

Asheville, N. C., April 19.—W.
W. Reynolds of Utica, Ohio, who has been spending some time in Asheville has returned to his home in Utica.
Before returning in an interview of a board of trade representative, Mr.
Reynolds told of his home that he calls "Hill Top Farm," and said that "it lies to the weather," similar to the hill land of this country.
In the interview Mr. Reynolds said that he works there all year except a vacation in winter, and now has gone back to have fun growing crops and feeding live stock. Most men "retire" before they are 60 years old, but by what he says few get more enjoyment out of life than he does. He works nearly every day and then writes on farming and breeding live stock for farm papers in the evening.

He thinks, like many, that it is the duty of every man who has land, to reach the maximum of product of this year, but also looks at it from the dollar standpoint and will grow all he can both from duty and self-interest.

Mr. Reynolds said: Foreign lands are laid in waste and the men are away, wounded or killed, and the living will starve unless we get food for them. Add to this our home shortage and many of our own people will suffer unless we grow food for them. A reduced surplus and both friend and stranger depending on us.
Conditions appeal to our humanity.
"The American farmer never had such an outlook. The world looks to him now for help and if he will give it they will pay for it. He can not glut the market with anything and prices must be high, some high er than now. Everything grown will be wanted and the price will be a secondary thought.

"While this condition obtains, and it promises for years right here in Buncombe county and over empires of land, there are few plans evident that the farmers will come anywhere near their possibilities of production.
Kind must a man be who does not plan and work for a maximum yield this year."

While here Mr. Reynolds was out on the farms to pick up any points for his own use and in reply to the question of a farmer a few miles west of Asheville, "Will this plowed field grow a crop of corn?"
He said: "That depends on what you call a crop. It will grow 25 or 30 bushels per acre. All this level and rolling land should grow twice that and some three, but for such yields it is necessary there be a good stock of humus and I'm afraid you haven't got it. If this field had had a heavy sod or 20 or 30 tons of manure per acre, it would be likely to double its present promise.

"I see it did not have any grass and your live stock is too limited to give you much manure, so to get what I would call a crop you must depend on fertilizer. Four hundred pounds drilled in each acre now will double your yield. You get your 25 or 30 bushels for all the work of the crop and as much for the cost of the fertilizer. The bushels brought by it will be the cheapest. Each of them will not cost half the others, and then you will have some chemicals left for later crops.

"I can get 50 without fertilizers, but that is not enough. I must have 75 or more and the excess is cheaper than growing the original corn or buying it.
"Then put this field in wheat next fall with a couple of hundred more.
Sew cloverseed with a little alfalfa.
Alsicla and timothy mixed in it, cut two tons of hay and have brought enough better next time for 40 or 50 bushels of corn without fertilizer, and then raise that level. The object should be to grow good yields and make the dirt stronger.

"Get after your other fields the same way. More live stock, more manure, more grass seed and fertilizer. Quit buying feed for a few animals and grow it for a whole lot of them, that is what dirt is for.
Every man I see leaving Asheville has a bag of feed or bale of hay with him. That feed came from everywhere and the hay came from in the north. I sold No. 1 timothy at $11 a ton and paid the baling. You know what it costs and I know I would like to grow it farther south.

"I grew one-half ton to the acre 35 years ago and we sold 115 tons off of 60 acres last fall. Then we had about 80 tons of clover and alfalfa for the stock besides the fodder from 26 acres of corn.

"My dirt was not a bit better than yours 40 years ago when I went in off $4000 in debt on it, and now there are 330 happy sheep. There are 200 acres. No feed it bought, but mutton, wool, hogs, hay and wheat are sold and it came up grade the way I advise you. If you want to take the chance on paying your fare, come up, and if every statement is not true the whole thing is yours.

"Starting to get good yields, and at the same time improve soil, is like a spring run, the volume increases until it becomes a creek or a river. Get grain, grass, hay roots and livestock, preferably sheep, and up grade you go.

"The American farmer is the best fixed fellow in the world if he grabs his chance. Every one must take off his hat to him and hunt everything he grows. Europe can't get food. Germany annually bought half a million tons of our phosphate rock and made a million tons of fertilizer from it each year. The other nations got about the same, also bones and blood from Argentina.
They can't get these now and cannot crop without fertilizer, besides there are few but women to farm anyhow. The world never produced enough wool to clothe it right, and the United States only one-third of its needs, so watch the price jump now that shipping is precarious, and also see some folks wear threadbare woolens.

"It is our duty to grow things and we have a snap if we grab it, as I have remarked on several occasions. This country should grow everything necessary for man and beast and ship a little of many things, but especially great quantities of red apples, wool and mutton."

What Ohio Club Women Are Doing

Mrs. Prentice E. Rood, Director of Press.

By far the most important event of the year in the club world, is the council meeting held in New Orleans, April 9 to 13.

Mrs. Josiah Evans Cowles of California, president of the General Federation of Women's clubs, made a strong appeal to the patriotism of all clubwomen. She expressed her belief that the call to service and the need that each man, woman and child assume some responsibility will be met with courage and steadiness.

Now that the federation has offered its services to our country, it is most important that we inform ourselves how that service can best be expressed. Miss Helen Louise Johnson of Watertown, N. Y., chairman of the relationship committee of the general federation, recommended that each state federation work as a unit, with subordinate county and city units.

Baby Week.

Remember that Ohio clubwomen have taken for their slogan, "Complete Birth Registration for Ohio's Baby Population." How much are you doing to help this come true? Do not delay. Make a survey and find how many of the babies born in your community in 1916 were registered.

Civics.

A campaign of education that shall be continuous is planned by a civic committee of Ursula Wolcott chapter, Daughters of the Revolution of Toledo.

The city is about to expend several thousand dollars in its annual clean-up week. It is the belief of this patriotic organization that true patriotism can be expressed in pride in one's city, and that much money can be saved and health safeguarded if the citizens can be taught the fine art of keeping clean.

To Have Clean Beautiful Hair

The best thing to use is kreamol, a liquid which you can get at almost any drug store.

A small amount, only one or two teaspoonfuls will cleanse the hair and scalp thoroughly.

Simply moisten the hair with water, rub in a little of kreamol, massage well and then rinse in clean water. The hair dries quickly and evenly, and is fresh looking, bright, fluffy, wavy, and easy to handle.

Besides, it loosens and removes the dust, dirt and dandruff. Do not use cheap soap or cheaply prepared shampoos if you want to keep your scalp clean and the hair soft and beautiful.

You will find kreamol very inexpensive as a four ounce bottle will be sufficient to last every one in the family many weeks.—Adv.

Kreamol is sold at Evans' Drug Store (Warden Hotel Block), Newark, Ohio, and Gilman's Drug Store, Granville, Ohio.

Society

Assembly Hall was enhanced by a profusion of national colors and American flags on Friday evening when the Bachelors entertained over one hundred guests with a dancing party.

The panels in the wall were created with flags and the chandeliers were draped in the national colors. These also were used to cover the pillars supporting the balcony, and at the end of the room a spotlight played on the club emblem in gold and white. The dance formally opened with a grand march led by Uncle Sam, Donald Vail and the Goddess of Liberty, Miss Flo Barnett of Columbus.

Patriotic hats in red, white and blue and bearing numbers were distributed, and by comparative numbers partners for the dance were found. During the balloon dance, myriads of red, white and blue balloons were released from the balcony and one of the delightful features was the red, white and blue serpentine confetti dance.

During the dance program, the assembly vocalized the club song, Bachelor Days, and wafers and ices were served.

Y. W. C. A. Notes

The Y. W. C. A. rooms have given evidence of real springtime this week. The beautiful flowers that adorned the lunch tables each day were the gift of Kent Bros.

The business girls' gymnasium class closed for the term this week after a splendid year's work. Mrs. John Thomas made a splendid contribution to the Y. W. reading table in subscriptions to Modern Priscilla, Century and Harper's Magazine.

Interest still continues in the Helen Gould Bible verses. Mrs. Eli Hull and Mrs. Lester Wilkins recited perfectly over three hundred verses at one sitting, which is over two-thirds of the entire number required. The Bibles are beautiful and something to prize, not only for themselves, but for the passages they represent that have been memorized.

The millinery class closed this week after a most successful and enjoyable course of lessons. So enthusiastic was the class, it was loath to have them come to a close. Remember the big mass meeting for women Sunday afternoon at 2:15, when Miss Gladys Ditzell of the Bromley party, will address women only.

Y. M. C. A. Notes

General secretary, Frank L. Johnson, spent last Saturday and Sunday in Cleveland and vicinity where he was called on account of the serious illness of his sister, who is in the Huron Road hospital in Cleveland.

Special summer membership rates have been proposed to the membership and finance committees as follows: Men, three months, $2.50; five months, $4. Boys (intermediate, 15 to 18 years), three months, $2; five months, $3. Boys (junior, 12 to 15 years), three months, $1.50; five months, $2.50. These memberships must be taken so as to expire before October 10, and are subject to certain limitations to suit various classes of membership. In case a year's membership is desired at the expiration of the special membership, credit will be given on such membership of the amount paid in the special membership.

Member John Andrews whose parents live at 247 North Eleventh street, has transferred his membership to the West Side branch in Cleveland. Andrews is in the employ of the B. & O. company there. The association wishes to congratulate the Zanesville board and secretary and the people of Zanesville upon the two gifts of $25,000.00 each. They expect to raise $200,000 for a new building.

General Secretary Johnson spent last Tuesday in Columbus in a meeting of state and city secretaries. The opportunities confronting the associations of North America were discussed and a policy formulated to meet these opportunities.

At the annual election held last Tuesday, the following men were elected to serve as members of the board of directors for the next three years: J. N. Pugh, C. L. Flory, Max Norpell, W. E. Painter, A. S. Stephens and F. M. B. Windle. At the next meeting of the board, the organization for the new year will be perfected and the standing committees appointed.

SAILORS' LOVE LETTERS VERY MUCH TO THE POINT

Strict Censorship Imposed by Naval Authorities—Can Only Write Home on Form Postal.

Nowadays if a young man in the United States navy or in the naval reserve on duty wants to write home he receives a postal card upon which are printed the following terse sentences:

I am quite well.
I have just been admitted to the hospital.
I have been wounded. I am getting along well.
I have been sick, but I hope to return to duty soon.
I have received your letter, telegram, parcel, dated _____
I have received no letter from you for a long time.

If the sailor desires to send this he very carefully crosses out the sentences which do not fit his case, signs his name, addresses the card and thereby finishes his task. He does not write another word, because he knows if he does the card will be destroyed. He does not try to make any funny marks or put any scratches or anything else mysterious on it.

He does not say where he is, on what ship he is, where he has been or where he is going. It's wartime, and over in England, where they invented the idea, they found early in the war that ingenious individuals who wanted to tell things they should not tell tried all sorts of things to slip some extra information home. Some of these individuals faced a firing squad.

Just as soon as one of our armies gets to a place where there is likely to be trouble the same censorship will go in for the soldiers.

Folk at home, however, can write fully, only they should not attack the administration, criticize the army authorities and cheer for the kaiser in their communications. They might get into trouble.

MRS. WILSON ECONOMIZES.

Wives of Cabinet Members Make Appeal For Universal Thrift.

Mrs. Wilson, wife of the president; Mrs. Marshall, wife of the vice president, and the wives of members of the cabinet have agreed to reduce their scale of living to the simplest possible form in order to set an example to other women of the country.

To do their part in the movement for the conservation of the nation's time and resources the women of the highest official families have decided to omit the usual formal entertaining and calling and to reduce to the minimum their social activities, so that they will be able to give more time and money to constructive preparedness and relief work.

They have agreed to pledge themselves to buy inexpensive clothing and simple food and to watch and prevent all kinds of waste. They have informally appealed to all the women of the country to join them, not only as individuals, but by organizing to prevent possible suffering later on.

Mrs. Wilson and Miss Margaret Wilson, the unmarried daughter of the president, are now paying more attention to the details of the management of the White House establishment than ever before.

NO WHISKY DURING WAR.

Sixteen Kentucky Distillers to Conserve Grain Supply.

James E. Pepper, head of a well-known whisky distilling plant, has announced in Chicago that his plant in Lexington, Ky., will make no whisky during the progress of the war. He declares that his action is due to the shortage in grain and that it is the patriotic duty of every citizen to conserve the supply.

Fifteen other Kentucky distillers will take similar action. They all have offered to supply the government with their available stock of alcohol.

Shun "Tips" if You Play Stocks.

"Whatever you do, don't go it alone," is the advice that Harold Howland gives to women investors in the Woman's Home Companion. "Shun the financial gossip of the uninformed, the cocksure counsel of the irresponsible, the glittering generalities or the more insidious particularities of the concealed ignoramus. Beware of rumors, 'tips' and 'inside information.' Base your transactions upon the firm ground of accurate information, sound judgment and disinterested advice. Don't try to 'get rich quick.'"

Roland Lodge.

Twelve candidates were given the Esquire rank at the meeting of Roland Lodge this week. This class will be knitted at next week's meeting and a large crowd is expected. It is the intention to open lodge about a half hour earlier than usual in order to finish the work in good time on this exceptionally large class. Plans will be outlined at this meeting for the session on May 1, which will be a little out of the ordinary. Since our last meeting Bro. C. A. McElwain has been summoned to the Supreme lodge on high, his death occurring on Tuesday and day after tomorrow, under the auspices of Roland Lodge, taking place Thursday afternoon. An invitation has been extended to the Pythians of this city to attend the tabernacle in a body. The invitation has been accepted by this lodge, and the date will be announced later. We want to have the largest delegation of any Newark organization; and can do so if we all get busy. Look for further announcements.

Newark Lodge, No. 13, met last Thursday evening with some (?) attendance but there was room for more. The regular business was light and consumed very little time. All officers with one exception were present at the last meeting. Next Thursday evening the Esquire rank will be conferred on a class of pages and the refreshment committee promises something on. The evening should bring out a large crowd to enjoy the fruits of their efforts.

JR. O. U. A. M.

Keeps Milk From Boiling Over.
Among the various devices which are intended to prevent milk from boiling over we noticed one which solves the problem in a very simple way, says the Scientific American. It consists of a straight tube of say two or three inches in diameter at the top and expanding somewhat toward the bottom, where it is provided with a flaring and cup shaped end of rather large diameter, the whole being somewhat of trumpet shape. Out of the lower part are cut, say four suitable openings, and we set the device upright in the vessel with the small end just out of the liquid. Should the milk tend to boil violently this action commences at the bottom, and the liquid is forced up the tube, then falls upon the surface again, so that the boiling action will continue in this way and the milk has no tendency to leave the vessel.

Added to the high cost of living comes the thought that soon even the thermometers will be going up.

KEEP LOOKING YOUNG

It's Easy—If You Know Dr.
Edwards' Olive Tablets.

The secret of keeping young is to feel young—to do this you must watch your liver and bowels—there's no need of having a sallow complexion—dark rings under your eyes—pimples—a bilious look in your face—dull eyes with no sparkle. Your doctor will tell you ninety per cent of all sickness comes from inactive bowels and liver.

Dr. Edwards, a well-known physician in Ohio, perfected a vegetable compound mixed with olive oil to act on the liver and bowels, which he gave to his patients for years.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets, the substitute for calomel, are gentle in their action, yet always effective. They bring about that exuberance of spirit, that natural buoyancy which should be enjoyed by everyone, by toning up the liver and clearing the system of impurities.

You will know Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets by their olive color. 10c and

Andrey Munson, the beautiful model appearing in "Purity," a photoplay which has created quite a sensation in this city is famous in art circles the world over. Her beauty of form has won her the sobriquet of the American story of a popular romance. Struck by an automobile by a noted New York sculptor, as she was crossing a crowdpital the sculptor who had recognized her wonderful beauty of form, asked her to pose for him. Her first effort in this line met with such approval that it was not long before her services were in demand everywhere by artists and sculptors.

Miss Munson's first important role was for the statue of "Evangeline" by Daniel Chester French, now occupying a place before Longfellow's home in Cambridge, Mass. Later she posed for the figures of "The Fountain of Mi-sericorde" by Mrs. Harry Payne Whit-famous Italian sculptor,

All of Miss Munson's famous poses, including "Evangeline," "The Foun-

and "The Fountain of Life," are introduced in the "Purity" production,

The new cabinet has had its first strict neutrality toward all the bel-

The note concludes with an anantees will be restored. It adds that severe punishment will be meted out to all who attempt to injure the good relations between Spain and the belligerents.

Beyond remarking that if the new

them, the newspapers make little comment on the change in the ad-

BOY SCOUTS WILL FEED OUR TROOPS

Enlist Their Aid to Plant
2,000,000 More Gardens.

ONE POUND FOR A MEAL

Youths to Store Large Quantities of Foodstuffs All Over the Country and at a Call For Help Will Flood the Army With Good, Palatable, Nourishing Food.

Two million home gardens, cultivated under the auspices of the Boy Scouts of America, are going to prove invaluable to the United States during the war period and help to end the high price of food here, according to O. H. Benson of the United States department of agriculture.

Mr. Benson, who is in charge of the government's agricultural extension work, conferred in New York with officials of the boy scouts on the plans for mobilizing the 275,000 scouts and officers for food production. He said the back yard gardening campaign is sweeping the nation and that the movement to a great extent will prove the solution of the food problem that now confronts this country.

If these new resources are properly conserved, Mr. Benson says, they will furnish prices down next fall and also furnish a reserve food supply that will be invaluable to the country in its prosecution of the war.

"This boy scout movement alone means more than 2,000,000 new gardens throughout the country this spring," said Mr. Benson. "In addition to raising a garden himself, each scout is pledged to persuade nine other persons not scouts to raise gardens. That makes ten gardens per scout, and there are 218,000 scouts, not counting the adults in the organization.
These millions of gardens will furnish an addition to the food supply which the nation will appreciate more next fall than it does now."

Boys to Ration Army.
A plan by which the United States army can be furnished with millions of pounds of balanced rations on a few hours' notice through the co-operation of the boy scouts was revealed by Mr.
Benson. Boy scouts all over the country will be instructed in scientific methods of preserving the surplus food products of their gardens. They will be taught how to prepare a balanced ration in one pound packages especially for army use.

One of these packages will be sufficient to feed a soldier for one day. If on short rations. Normally a soldier would eat one at a meal. The food will be compact, and a marching soldier could carry several days' provisions in his knapsack.

Millions of these one pound packages of food will be stored by boy scouts under the direction of the scout masters. When the government needs the food for its soldiers the war department will communicate with the boy scout headquarters. Immediately telegrams will be sent to scout masters all over the country. They will at once ship the rations from their districts to a central distributing point named by the government. Within a few hours rations enough to equip a great army will be pouring in.

The basis of the one pound ration will be either spaghetti, rice or homi-nity. With this, in scientifically balanced proportions, will be meat, potatoes, tomatoes, carrots and onions. The ration can be heated in the can, thus furnishing a soldier a quick, appetizing and nourishing meal.

Increase in Gardening.
The interest being shown throughout the country in the gardening movement is indicated, Mr. Benson said, by the fact that the department of agriculture has already distributed more of its pamphlets on gardening this spring than it did throughout all last year.

Equally as important as the efforts to increase this country's production of foodstuffs, said Mr. Benson, is the necessity of preserving the surplus and avoiding waste. This can be done by canning under modern methods, he declared.

Making 2,000,000 gardens is to be only a part of the boy scouts' work.
They are to make their gardens 100 per cent efficient by not allowing a single pea or potato to go to waste. Mr.
Benson strongly urges all amateur gardeners to do the same.

* NOW DYNAMITING U BOATS *
* AS THEY ONCE KILLED FISH *

Dynamiting submarines as people used to dynamite fish before it became illegal is the latest scheme of the English, according to Dr. McKim, the American veterinary surgeon who has just returned from a German prison camp, where he was one of the Yarrowdale prisoners.

"They attach a giant bomb to the tail of a patrol boat or destroyer," said Dr. McKim, "and drop it when a submarine is sighted. It explodes at a given depth and nearly blows the patrol boat out of the water. But the water transmits shock so readily that it also destroys the U boat."

HOOPER, A SELF MADE MAN, BEGAN AT $2 A DAY

Has Followed Mining Profession
In Many Sections of the Globe.

Herbert C. Hoover, or "Bert," as Stanford men know him, was one of the first graduates in mining turned out by Leland Stanford university after that institution was founded. He started his career as an ordinary miner at $2 a day, but soon managed to find desk room as a mining engineer in San Francisco. From there he went to Australia and made a fortune out of an abandoned gold mine by subjecting it to modern methods.

European capitalists found him a position as mining expert for the North China government shortly before the Boxer revolt. When that rebellion occurred he hurried Mrs. Hoover, also a Stanford graduate, to Tintsin, and together they went through the siege, Hoover occasionally manning a machine gun.

When the Boxers were finally subdued Hoover found his fortune and prospects gone, but he carried a coal concession to London and began life over. There his rise was rapid, and he acquired mining interests in Burma, Mexico, Australia, China, California and Russia. He centered on zinc, and his specialty was developing run down properties.

When the war broke out he gave up his business and served on the American relief commission. There he showed such rare executive ability that he was made chairman of the Belgian relief commission. Since then his career has been part of the history of the great war and known to the whole world. He has now been put in charge of conserving this nation's food supply.

ADMIRAL, 72, WOULD FIGHT.

But Navy Department Won't Reinstated Retired.

Rear Admiral George C. Reiter, retired, returned to New York from Washington a disappointed man. He told friends that he had just been turned down by the navy department for the second time.

Admiral Reiter is seventy-two and has been on the retired list several years. He says he feels as spry as any man of sixty, and the refusal of the department to accept his services pained him.

"Of course as a sailor I must obey orders," said the admiral, "but if I could just get into active service again they'd find me as young as any of 'em."

"To Give Him the Sack."

Two noblemen in the reign of Maximilian II.—1564-1566—one a German, the other a Spaniard, who had each rendered a great service to the emperor, asked the hand of his daughter in marriage. Maximilian said that as he esteemed them both alike it was impossible to choose between them and therefore their own prowess must decide it; but, being unwilling to risk the loss of either by engaging them in deadly combat, he ordered a large sack to be brought and declared that he who should put his rival into it should have his fair Helena. And this whimsical combat was actually performed in the presence of the imperial court, and lasted an hour. The unhappy Spanish nobleman was first overcome, and the German succeeded in enveloping him in the sack, putting him upon his back and laying him at the emperor's feet.
This comical combat is said to be the origin of the phrase "Give him the sack," so common in the literature of courting.

Do not neglect your piano. A

FLAGS RAISED BY LOCAL INDUSTRIES; THREE CEREMONIES

Three more big flags were flung to the breeze by Newark industrial plants today. At noon all the employees of the Ruggs Halter Factory assembled, while a fine 8 by 15 foot flag was run up on the balyards of a tall flagstaff. At the B. & O. shops at 2:30 o'clock patriotic music and addresses featured the raising of a new flag. An hour later a similar program was carried out at the Jewett Car Works. Co. B. Old Guard, and drum corps took part in the ceremonies at the B. & O. and at the Jewett Car Works.

OFFICER SUNKLE HURT FELL INTO AN ASH PIT

Patrolman Wm. Sunkle, while making his rounds in the East End last evening, fell into the ash pit of the railway company at Gay street, and was badly bruised and the ligaments of one of his feet torn. He will be incapacitated for some time. One of his arms was also wrenched and he sustained several body bruises. Patrolman Sunkle knew of the pit, but it was dark and he stepped into it before he was aware that he was close to it.

BROMLEY SERVICES

colored folks are bound to climb," said he. "For if white folks keeps raising poodle dogs, and niggers keep raising pickaninnies niggers will come to the top."

The rich man's lack of purpose was deplored. "One of the saddest things," said the speaker, "is a person who has much to live on, but nothing to live for."

"Lots of you will close up shop to serve Uncle Sam—that's right—but not to serve God—you're too busy. Men take too much time for themselves and slight God. Death will make you leave business!"

Co-operation in the life of the home was urged by the evangelist. "The older parents get the more children should love and help them," he declared.

When the evangelist had closed his sermon he issued a stirring appeal to those who were right to come and make a stand for Christ. And the invitation was responded to by a great number of people. The night in every way was a great success.

ADD BROMLEY
Today marks the closing of the second week of devil-chasing under the auspices of the Bromley campaign and the meetings in the large tabernacle are gaining in interest daily. Last night, for instance, people were turned away and on two occasions during the past week, not including last Sunday, the tabernacle was inadequate to hold the crowds that tried to get into the building.

During the week that just closed 56 meetings have been held, not including committee meetings and, the average number of meetings per week for the campaign promises to run past the fifty-mark.

A big meeting is being held at the tabernacle this afternoon and tonight the employees of the B. & O. will attend the services at the tabernacle in a body.

Dr. Bromley is highly pleased with the results thus far. While this is the fourteenth day of actual campaigning, the invitation has been given on but two occasions—at the boys' and girls' meeting last Saturday afternoon and again last night—but the response throughout the tabernacle was spontaneous and the Bromley party and ministers look for a mighty revival of religion.

This is the last campaign of the season for Dr. Bromley, there are five campaigns held in a season, and in the other fields this year the party have had about 12,000 conversions—meaning an average of about 3000 to a field.

Tomorrow morning different members of the party will fill local pulpits. The following are the assignments:

First M. E. Rev. S. B. Goff; First Presbyterian, W. W. Shannon; Woodside Presbyterian, Frank D. Harris; Central Church of Christ, C. H. Wicand; Tenth Street E. B. Miss Rose Fetterolf; East Main Street U. B., Dallas M. Blatt.

Dr. Bromley will deliver the first of the series of lectures to men only in the tabernacle Sunday at 2:15 o'clock. The children's chorus will sing.

After the song service, the boys and girls will leave for the Central Church of Christ where Miss Rose Fetterolf will address them.

At the same time in the First M. E. Church there will be a service for women only, and Miss Gladys Ditzell will address them.

At 6:15 in the Central Church of Christ, there will be another rally for the young people. Miss Fetterolf will address them.

The song service at the tabernacle tomorrow night is scheduled for 7 o'clock, and the preaching is to begin at 7:30 o'clock.

On Tuesday night the business women will hold their second luncheon and will come to the tabernacle in a body.

Wednesday night is Odd Fellows night at the tabernacle.

There is another street meeting scheduled to take place this evening on the square.

While there was no Bible study class scheduled for yesterday afternoon there was a clamoring for one and Miss Rose Fetterolf took the platform after the afternoon preaching service, and with the blackboard and chalk gave a lesson, taking as her subject, "Crowns and Rewards." There was a large attendance.

One of the best-attended shop meetings held thus far took place yesterday at the Helsey glass works. Dallas M. Blatt had charge of the meeting and Rev. R. E. Carman and J. E. Walters assisted.

The chair seats at the tabernacle have all been numbered and the members of the chorus now have the same seats each night.

Bromley Tabernacle Announcements.
Today—7 p. m., street meeting on the square; 7:30 p. m., preaching services at the tabernacle. The B. & O. men will attend in a body.

Tomorrow—10:30 a. m., preaching in the different churches; 2:15 p. m., lecture to men only by Dr. Bromley in the tabernacle; 2:15 p. m., First M. E. church by Miss Ditzell; 2:30 p. m., meeting for boys and girls only in the Central Church of Christ; 6:15 p. m., Young People's mass meeting in the Central Church of Christ; 7 p. m., song service in the tabernacle; 7:30 p. m., preaching services in the tabernacle.

Yesterday afternoon the service at the tabernacle was well attended and Rev. S. B. Goff preached a strong sermon on prayer.
